Contributors involved

The Award is open to all registered participants who submit an unpublished paper as first author to the First International Congress on Public Works Heritage And Civil Engineering, within the deadlines and as indicated in the instructions on the website www.congresopatrimoniodeobrapublica.es

Registration

All those registered for the Congress who present a paper will be eligible for the award in the theme “Dissemination, tourism, education and demographic challenge”.

Jury and evaluation of papers

The jury will be made up of members of the group formed to review papers from each theme within the Technical Committee of the First International Congress on Public Works Heritage And Civil Engineering.

In the event that a member of the jury has a personal or contractual relationship with any of the candidates (co-authors of the work, tutors or PhD or Master’s degree directors), he/she must refrain from participating at any point in the decision-making process about this candidate.

Award

Best Paper Award in the Theme: “Dissemination, tourism, education and demographic challenge”

Papers must be framed within the following theme out of the five themes defined for the “Dissemination, tourism, education and demographic challenge.”

The jury will evaluate the papers taking into account the work sent to the Congress, as well as the presentation made during the Congress, also verifying that the work presented is unpublished.

The Technical Committee will select the winning paper from those that meet the above conditions on the basis of an assessment of the following aspects:

- scientific quality
- concreteness and clarity of exposition
- academic and practical interest
- originality and relevance of the Paper subject topic

The jury’s decision shall be final and the awards may be declared vacant at the jury’s proposal.

The decision of the Scientific Committee will be made during the Congress, once the submission have been evaluated.

Award

The monetary value of the award will be €1,000.

Spanish tax legislation will be applicable to the awards of this Competition, and specifically the withholding tax provided for in the current tax legislation.

In addition, all the authors of the paper will receive a diploma certifying the obtention of the award.

The award will be presented as part of the Congress programme of events by the President of the Colegio de Caminos, the Dean of the Castilla-La Mancha branch, the member of the technical committee coordinating the theme and, where appropriate, the sponsor of the award.

Any communication about this Award shall be made through the e-mail address
